

Jeffrey Taylor

I have read the Nios II introduction.

A bit confused on the immediate operations, such as `andi`, `movi`, `<operation>i`. The examples used a `IMMED16` register in place of a standard `rA`, example claiming they were constants. Is the `IMMED16` register and those like it constants we set, or something predefined by Intel?