

Food Pairing Assignment

Jeff Taylor

VINTAGE : NON-VINTAGE

PRODUCER : XXL

GRAPE/REGION : MOSCATO

PRICE : $4.99 (sample size)

ALCOHOL : 16%

SEE :

CLEAR

Dark Straw (almost orange golden in color)

SMELL :

Very intense, can smell the high alcohol. Absolutely smell the peach as well.

Also getting a rubbery smell, or like rubar ish?

SIP :

Not dry at all - 0

Sweet - 5 (if the scale went past 5 I would)

Warmness in the chest

Consistency of whole milk

Low acid - Sours the mouth just a little then quickly goes away

This wine tastes like pure peach and sugar. As if you juiced a peach and then added unholy amounts of sugar. You can feel it in the consistency as well as its so thick like a sugary drink.

SWALLOW OR SPIT:

Swallow

SAVOR :

Not a lasting aftertaste besides peach

WOULD I BUY AGAIN? NO

COMMENTS :

There is no other flavor besides peach and sugar - it is heavily peach. And the sugar content must be through the roof because it's just so so thick.

PAIR WITH SPAGHETTI BOLOGNESE

VINTAGE : NON-VINTAGE

PRODUCER : La Marca

GRAPE/REGION : Glera (85%) Pinot Noir (15%)

PRICE : $4.99 (Sample Size)

ALCOHOL : 11%

SEE :

CLEAR

Pale Straw

Bubbles (Sparkling)

SMELL :

Somewhat intense,

Strong alcohol smell despite only being 11%

Peach, Citrus

Getting a lemon smell too?

SIP :

STANDALONE (No pairing) :

Somewhat dry - 1-2

Sweet : 2

Warm throat

Body - 0-1 water to 1% milk

WITH SPAGHETTI:

I read that they don't pair very well (after buying unfortunately) and I see why. The red sauce and the rose seem to dull each others flavors. It makes the beef of the Spaghetti Bolognese taste very unseasoned and bland and almost like it needs salt. Interestingly, together the wine tastes sweeter and more acidic?

SWALLOW OR SPIT:

Standalone : Swallow

Together : Swallow

SAVOR :

No lasting after taste when alone

The acidic feeling in my mouth seems to last longer after having it with food.

WOULD I BUY AGAIN?

Standalone : Yes - I would buy this again to have alone, not with anything.

Together : Potentially with a different meal, the light sparking wine and the heavy sauce of the meal I put together fight a bit much on the palette and don't play well.

COMMENTS :

My wine drinking friend from Washington was unhappy with my choice of food/wine pairing, and I understand why although I think she played up the negativity a bit much. While the spaghetti and the rose don't pair great together, its more so because they dull each other out, rather than make one thing taste worse.
