

Argentina, South Africa, and Chile

Which Country had major influence on the Chilean wine industry?

France

What is the unique red grape of Chile that was misidentified for years?

Carménère

What is the unique white grape of Argentina?

Torrontés

Name the major red grape of Argentina that is usually bottled varietally, but is more often seen globally in blends?

Malbec

What is Argentina's major wine producing region?

Mendoza

How can Argentina produce good wines from grapes planted so far away from large bodies of water?

High altitude vineyards in the Andes Mountains provide large temperature swings and irrigation from snowmelt

Phylloxera has not affected which of these three countries?

Chile

What is the white workhorse grape of South Africa?

Chenin Blanc

What is the cross red grape created for South Africa's terroir?

Pinotage

How many years has South Africa been exporting their wines?

Since the early 1990s (approximately 30+ years)